Dear Mark and Regina,

I am mailing to you this short letter containing my preliminary thinking on a program which would be for the express purpose of placing 100% of the operation and ownership of Continuing Life Research activities and "properties" in your hands.

What brings this to the front burner is the fact that I am only weeks away from my 85th birthday . . . and for the very first time in my adult life I have started to "feel" the mental and physical signs of the aging process.

The major eye operation -- which I discussed in a recent letter on this subject to you and my sons -- did not reveal the severity of the need for very powerful nighttime medication which had a major effect in my day-to-day productive capacity.

However, in recent weeks I studied the matter from every angle and to the best of my accumulated experience. Only after this extremely careful review of the entire situation have I concluded that the only realistic action is for us to put "all of our eggs in one basket".

I think we should now plan for turning 100% of the daily activity and 100% ownership in your hands. This proposed agreement would of course cover the situation on all publications --- past, present and future.

I suggest that you also "take inventory" of the subjects that we must eventually encapsulate in a written two-party agreement. (You are fortunate to have Regina available as a "sounding board".)

With Love and Light,

George
